INTRODUCTORY NOTE

The Executive Committee and the Editorial Board of the Organization of Arab Students in the United States of America and Canada introduce to members and all concerned with Arab affairs, this special publication. It is a guide to references dealing with the Arab World. In compiling this list, which contains 352 items, attention was given to publications in Western European languages; Arabic titles were included only in case of no other alternative.

We hope that this publication will be of value to those interested in Arab affairs. We also hope that this will be a first step in a series of special publications which the O.A.S. intends to bring out.
